

The Wisconsin Congregational Theological Society

Using the presentation of theological papers by members of the Society as the starting point for discussion, this group of clergy and laity grapples with subjects pertinent to the Church Universal as well as Congregational Christians in the 21st century.

Most of those recent papers are available on the Society's web site.

<http://www.wiscongregational.net/id20.htm>